

\(Just want to read? Go to stories.\)

A thousand and one stories is powered by writers from around the world. We review submissions and bring them to an audience of readers. If you love to write, submit a story!

We publish new and established writers in all genres. If you've never had your work published before, this could be a great way of getting your writing out there for the first time.

Whether we decide to put your work up on the site or not, we will give you free feedback on your writing!

Send your stories to thousandonestories@gmail.com.
