

Hi there!

Have you ever wanted to share all your stories on thousandonestories.com? Well now you can, with our improved author pages.

All you have to do is go to [thousandonestories.com/author/\[your username on the site\]](https://thousandonestories.com/author/[your username on the site]). For me, that would be thousandonestories.com/stories/edwardk. You should see clickable links to all of the stories that you've had published.

Now you can share that link with anyone who would like to see all your stories!

Don't have any stories published? Visit our submissions page!
